

I am opposed to the FCC allowing anymore changes to either the federal or State of Indiana 'no call' list. This law has been a godsend in protecting not only my privacy but that of my children and wife. I used to get calls from lending institutions for my minor children, soliciting them for business. I have had peace and quiet since i enrolled in the 'list' and would appreciate the FCC resisting any attempts from the banking group, or any other group, to infringe on my privacy.

PS. as a side note, the requirement of this site for a name and address adds to my concerns for privacy. please reconsider how to obtain comments without leaving open the possibility of adding one's name to a mailing list.

Thanks!
